Polish American Heritage Month

Each October, Polish Americans across the United States celebrate Polish Heritage Month—a time to honor the rich history, faith, and cultural traditions brought by Polish immigrants. It is an opportunity to give thanks for their contributions to our nation and to share Polish customs, music, and devotion to Mary, the Queen of Poland. Let us pray in gratitude for our ancestors and continue to pass on their faith and heritage to future generations.

"You will seek me and find me, when you seek me with all your heart.

Jeremiah 29:13

Today, Jesus confronts us with the social injustice that arises from the inequalities between rich and poor. As if it were one of the distressing images we're accustomed to seeing on television, the story of Lazarus moves us, achieving a sensationalist effect to stir emotions: "Dogs even used to come and lick his sores" (Luke 16:21). The difference is clear: the rich man was clothed in purple; the poor man was clothed in sores.

Equality comes quickly in this situation: both died. At the same time, however, the difference becomes more pronounced: one arrived at Abraham's side; the other was merely buried. If we had never heard this story, and if we applied the values of our society, we might conclude that the one who won the prize must have been the rich man, and the one abandoned in the grave, the poor man. It's clear, logically.

The judgment comes to us from the mouth of Abraham, the father of faith, and clarifies the outcome: "My child, remember that you received what was good during your lifetime while Lazarus likewise received what was bad" (Luke 16:25). God's justice turns the situation around. God does not allow the poor to remain forever in suffering, hunger, and misery.

This story has touched the hearts of millions of wealthy people throughout history and led multitudes to conversion, but what message is needed in our developed, hyper-connected, globalized world to make us aware of the social injustices of which we are the authors, or at least accomplices? All who heard Jesus' message longed to rest in Abraham's bosom, but how many people in our world will be satisfied with simply being buried when they die, without wanting to receive the comfort of the Father in heaven? "True wealth is getting to see God, and what is needed is what Saint Augustine said: 'Walk through man and you will reach God.' May the Lazarus's of each day help us to find God."

Respect Life Sunday

Sunday, October 5 is Respect Life Sunday, a day dedicated to reflecting on the sanctity and dignity of all human life. On this day, we are reminded that threats to life and human dignity take many forms in our world. The Diocese works tirelessly to strengthen our commitment to promoting a culture of life through advocacy, education, and parish outreach. Your generosity in the Respect Life envelope collection will support this essential mission. We deeply appreciate your prayers and support.

Did God will the death of his only Son?

The violent death of Jesus did not come about through tragic external circumstances. Jesus was "delivered up according to the definite plan and foreknowledge of God" (Acts 2:23). So that we children of sin and death might have life, the Father in heaven "made him to be sin who knew no sin" (2 Cor 5:21). The magnitude of the sacrifice that God the Father asked of his Son, corresponded to the magnitude of Christ's obedience: "And what shall I say? 'Father, save me from this hour'? No, for this purpose I have come to this hour" (Jn 12:27). On both sides, God's love for men proved itself to the very end on the Cross. [599-609, 620] In order to save us from death, God embarked on a dangerous mission: He introduced a "medicine of immortality" (St. Ignatius of Antioch) into our world of death—his Son Jesus Christ.

The Father and the Son were inseparable in this mission, willing and yearning to take the utmost upon themselves out of love for man. God willed to make an exchange so as to save us forever. He wanted to give us his eternal life, so that we might experience his joy, and wanted to suffer our death, our despair, our abandonment, our death, so as to share with us in everything. So as to love us to the end and beyond. Christ's death is the will of the Father but not his final word. Since Christ died for us, we can exchange our death for his life. Apart from the Cross there is no other ladder by which we may get to heaven. ST. ROSE OF LIMA (1586-1617, patron saint of Peru, first saint of the Americas) It was not the death that pleased him [God the Father], but rather the will of him who freely died, who through that death abolished death, made salvation possible, and restored innocence, who triumphed over principalities and powers, robbed death and enriched heaven, who restored peace to what is in heaven and on earth and united everything.
