SUNDAY REFLECTIONS

SNITCEFFER YADNUS

"Go to the crossroads and invite everyone you find to the wedding."

Today, Jesus shows us the King (the Father), inviting—through his “servants” (the prophets)—to the banquet of his Son’s covenant with humanity (salvation). He first did so with Israel, “but they refused to come” (Mt 22:3). Faced with their refusal, the Father persists:

“See, my banquet is ready, (...) and everything is ready; come to the wedding feast” (Mt 22:4). But this rejection, this mockery and death of the servants, provokes the dispatch of troops, the death of those murderers, and the burning of “their” city (cf. Mt 22:6-7): Jerusalem.

Thus, other “servants” (the apostles) were sent to go to “the crossroads” (Mt 22:9): “Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them...” the Lord Jesus would later say in Mt 28:19—and so we, the rest of humanity, were invited, that is, “all they found, both good and bad, and the wedding hall was filled with guests” (Mt 22:10): the Church.

Even so, the matter is not only about being in the wedding hall by invitation, but also about the dignity with which one attends (the “wedding garment,” cf. Mt 22:12). St. Jerome commented on this: “The wedding garments are the precepts of the Lord and the works accomplished according to the Law and the Gospel, which are the garments of the new man.” That is, the works of charity with which faith must accompany itself.

We know that Mother Teresa of Calcutta went out every night into the streets of Calcutta to gather the dying and lovingly give them a good death: clean, well-covered, and, if possible, baptized. She once remarked, “I am not afraid to die, because when I stand before the Father, there will be so many poor people I entrusted to Him in my wedding dress who will know how to defend me.” Blessed was she! Let us learn her lesson.
